A LITERARY LEGEND REBORN: VALLEY VIEWS, A BARREL SAUNA, AND BESPOKE INTERIORS.

The Old Macaroni is not merely a chalet; it is a narrative brought to life. Transformed from a traditional Savoyard farmhouse into a haven of individuality, its four floors present a curated collection of interiors where each room pays homage to famous literary works. The atmosphere is deeply personal yet exquisitely comfortable, creating a unique backdrop for a sophisticated mountain holiday.

The chalet experience begins with a welcoming entrance hall and a practical ski room. Adjacent to these is an open-plan kitchen and dining area, designed for convivial apres-ski gatherings and equipped with branded appliances and a professional teppanyaki plate for gourmet evenings. One floor up is the main living room—a spacious hall with a cozy fireplace. Panoramic sliding doors frame stunning views of the valley and the Pleney and Nyon slopes, opening onto a wrap-around balcony. A grand piano awaits impromptu evening concerts, while a discreet door leads to a spacious and quiet office for those who need to work.

For deep relaxation, the chalet offers an unparalleled spa zone. Unwind in the outdoor hot tub or step into the glass-fronted barrel sauna to soothe tired muscles while admiring the magnificent Alpine scenery.

The chalet accommodates up to 18 guests. It features five bedrooms and a mezzanine, each themed after literary works:

- First Floor: The «Little Prince» bedroom (king-size bed, velvet headboard, private balcony, and a free-standing bathtub on a mezzanine level with views of the slopes). Also, a suite themed after the novel «All Men Are Mortal» (a vast shower, dressing room, and balcony).
- Lower Floor: A Hemingway-inspired bedroom (decorated in blue tones, with a shower).
- The Gem: A spa treatment room featuring a pull-out bed, allowing for flexible use of the space.
- Mezzanine: A children's area in the style of «Harry Potter», complete with four cabin beds with privacy curtains and a play area.

The Old Macaroni is designed for unforgettable shared leisure. On the lower floor, a stunning home cinema awaits, featuring art deco lighting, rows of plush sofas, and cozy bean bags. It is an ideal spot for family movie nights, equipped with modern surround sound. Whether it's social cooking on the teppanyaki grill, reading by the fire, or relaxing in the hot tub under the stars, every corner of this chalet is crafted for meaningful connection with loved ones.
